

HEARTWARMING STORIES

Long distance grandparenting can be tough! Sometimes the distance feels so great that it's hard to focus in on the moments that we are sharing and the truth that distance doesn't keep us apart relationally! Use this page to write down those good moments. It could be a funny thing that was said, a developmental milestone or a short story. Little by little we'll have a full page to look back on (print these out!). A perfect read for a challenging day!

A Story to Remember

A large, empty rectangular box with a thick black border, intended for writing a story.
